

Every dollar helps give children in need the opportunity to change their future.

$35

helps power our iTrack program, which pairs students with a trained adult mentor to give guidance about study and careers.

$50

helps a child growing up in poverty improve their literacy skills by matching them with a peer reading buddy on our student2student program.

$220

can help a young Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander student access tailored learning support to help them catch up, keep up and succeed at school.

$660

can support a child's education for an entire school year on our Learning for Life program, through a combination of personal, practical, and financial assistance.
